

Shakti Dance presents

Sari Draping Workshop

fund-raising event

Learn how to drape and wear a sari properly in this fun evening workshop . . .

If you've ever wondered what the best way to drape a sari is, now's the time to find out.

Nobody wears a sari quite like the lovely Anjali Potdar, manager of Saravanaa Bhavan restaurant. Anjali has perfected this art form over the years with immaculate pleats and a hip-hugging style that, as Anjali says, "brings out the best in any woman's figure."

Bring a friend and come learn from Anjali how to drape your saris in the best possible way for your body type. At the same time, you'll discover the latest sari fashion trends from India.

All proceeds will go toward bringing dance teacher and choreographer Jaya Lakshmi Eshwar from New Delhi to Vancouver for another summer of dance workshops in 2010. Help support this important part of dance training and bring new dances to the stage.

Bring your saris, lots of large safety pins, a string for your waist or a petticoat, and choli (blouse) if you have one.

Sunday, August 9th, 2009 • 7- 9 p.m. • $22 (includes Masala Chai) • Shakti Dance Studio in Kits

Please rsvp at 604-733-3439 or at shaktidance@shaw.ca